Summary of DWCC Student Roundtables

Melissa Rorie, Nicole Piquero, Sally Simpson, and Kristy Holtfreter at the Promoting Excellence in White-Collar Crime Research roundtable

Best Practices in Teaching White-Collar Crime (discussants: Danielle McGurrin, Kent Kerley, Mary Dodge, Brian Payne, and Kip Schlegel): This session discussed topics including relevant textbooks for graduate and undergraduate students, using media including the Swindled podcast in courses, and potential books, TV specials, and movies to incorporate in class. Many in attendance agreed to share their syllabi with participants!

Promoting Excellence in White-Collar Crime Research (discussants: Nicole Piquero, Michael Benson, Kristy Holtfreter, Sally Simpson, and Mark Cohen): This session discussed topics including applying for grants, potential data sources, problems with obtaining and working with data, and data accuracy. Participants shared their research ideas and interests with panelists and got feedback.

Completing Your Dissertation (discussants: Erin Harbinson, Hannarae Lee, Miranda Galvin, Bryan Burton, and Kenneth Sebastian Leon): This session discussed topics including time management, the decision to embargo your dissertation, job searching, and working with dissertation chairs and committees.

Look for more Student Roundtables next year! Let us know if there is something you'd like to discuss.
